Festival Offers Eating, Competing, Parading, Serenading, Pets & Bingo

by Sandy Smith

The 1991 Greenbelt Labor Day Festival runs from August 30 through September 2 and brings a wide array of entertainers, carnival rides, games, contests, shows, exhibits and exotic and popular foods to the Center of Greenbelt for the enjoyment of all. This is the 37th Labor Day Festival, which is run by an all-volunteer committee to promote community spirit and involvement. The Festival draws not only current Greenbelt residents but hundreds of former Greenbelters, neighbors and visitors from throughout the area. A full schedule of Festival activities is shown in the four-page program appearing in this issue only of the News Review. (Please save.)

Entertainment

The 1991 Festival features non-stop entertainment on the Festival stage and highlights a talented variety of performers of all types. Headlining the show on Friday evening, August 30, are the Jello Boys, an Annapolis-based rock band, popular throughout the mid-Atlantic region "for their informal and unpretentious style, their eclectic choice of original and cover tunes, their superb musicianship and gentle irreverence." The Jello Boys play clubs in the Annapolis area, and are featured performers in Georgetown clubs. They are known for their sets flowing freely from rock & roll to reggae, rhythm & blues to swing, and classic psychedelic.

Christian the Magician and his expanded group of entertainers, known as Christian and Company, have entertained the Labor Day Festival crowds for many years. His high-spirited and dramatic-magical tricks amaze and delight his audiences each year. D.C. Motors does a virtual history of rock & roll in its performances. Mixing comedy bits and audience participation, D.C. Motors creates the sounds of Elvis and the Boss and everything in between.

The musical sounds and styles of the 50s and 60s will be alive on the Festival stage, Saturday afternoon, August 31.

Don Mullins offers a unique, versatile and energetic performance in one of the oldest forms of entertainment—mime. He will be roving and performing through the carnival area to give festival-goers a chance to see this act up close and personal.

Rock & roll turns to blue grass when the Sprouts of Grass take the stage to present old-time traditional and original string band and blue grass music.

Closing out Saturday's entertainment is Patricia Lynn and Timberline, playing country music with a kick. A seasoned and talented vocalist, she has been performing around this area for 10 years.

Grandsons of the Pioneers combine a comprehensive knowledge of musical history with technical skill and the whole is indeed greater than the sum of its parts. The Grandsons of the Pioneers may not be direct kin to Roy Rogers' western swing band, the Sons of the Pioneers, but they are definitely related in spirit. This band steps on the stage to begin the entertainment Sunday, September 1.

They are followed by Pandemonium Brass, which performs as a traditional brass quintet, but can also deviate from the traditional quintet instrumentation because each member plays several brass instruments. Among the styles of music represented in the repertoire are classical, baroque, ragtime, jazz, popular, contemporary, sacred and spiritual.

The environmental folk duo Magpie is up next with a collection of songs dedicated to the earth. A typical Magpie concert takes the listener on a musical journey, including songs from the early days of recorded music, classic jazz, blues and country tunes of the 1920s and 30s as well as contemporary songs.

Electric Sky brings back the sounds of classic rock but the group is also well-known for its own original compositions. This locally popular group is heard at area clubs and parties. Souled Out plays Sunday night with top 40 and popular favorites.

A Greenbelt group, the Veshch, will start the entertainment immediately following the Labor Day Parade on Monday, September 2. The group plays progressive mixed with rock and has just released its first album, Flatland. Bill Jenkins is a veritable orchestra as his one-man act features many of the instruments of the orchestra and invites the audience to learn and participate.

Bram Files First for Election; Weidenfeld Will Run Also

Incumbent Councilmember Antoinette M. (Toni) Bram was the first candidate to file for the City Council election to be held November 5. She is the only woman in Greenbelt history to have been elected to four consecutive terms on council. Bram is seeking her fifth two year term.

Mayor Gil Weidenfeld has announced his intention to run again for a position on council. He picked up his forms from the city clerk's office last Monday. Weidenfeld, who is completing his tenth term on council, has served as mayor for seven of those terms — an unprecedented record in council history. It has been traditional for the council to elect as mayor the candidate receiving the highest number of votes.

Bram

Bram first moved to Greenbelt Homes Inc. (GHI) on Plateau Place 31 years ago. The Brams currently reside in Boxwood Village on Tamarisk Court.

Bram was born in Washington, D.C. and graduated from Notre Dame Academy. She attended Wilson Teachers College. In 1956, she married Dr. Ralph A. Bram, who is currently a scientist with the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Bram continued her education at the University of Maryland, receiving a Bachelor of Science degree, summa cum laude, in urban studies and a Master of Arts degree in urban history. Her studies also included archeology in Rome, Italy.

The Brams raised four children in Greenbelt: Regina, Timothy, Simone and Jennifer. Their extended family includes a son-in-law, Allen Howard; two grandsons, William and Zachary; a daughter-in-law, Kiersten; and another son-in-law, Timothy Moran. Simone and her husband, Tim, a Prince Georges County Police Officer, live on Plateau Place.

Bram was appointed to the Parks and Recreation Advisory Board, where she served as vice chairman until 1981. Subsequently she served on the Greenbelt Advisory Planning Board until she was elected to city council in 1983.

Bram is a past president of the Homemakers Club, was a Camp Fire leader, board member and coach for St. Hugh's C.Y.O., coach for the Greenbelt Boys and Girls Club, board member and meet official for the Greenbelt Aquatic Boosters Club, and PTA vice president. She has been scholarship chair for Alpha Sigma Lambda honor society, University of Maryland, University College. Bram serves as city council liaison to the Friends See CANDIDATES, pg. 5, col. 3

Registration Deadline Nears For Nov. 5 Council Election

On Tuesday, November 5, the citizens of Greenbelt will elect the five members of the City Council who will represent them for the next two years. Greenbelt citizens who want to be nominated for City Council, sign a petition for someone to run for council, and/or plan to vote in the election must be registered with Prince Georges County. This is the first year of universal voter registration for Greenbelt. The city no longer maintains a separate voter registration file for people who want to vote in city elections.

In addition to electing five council members, voters will be asked, in an advisory question, whether they favor increasing the council terms to four years. Such a change, if approved by voters and enacted by council, would not take effect until the 1993 election.

Voter Registration

Registering to vote is the first step to qualify as a voter—to run for office or to vote for a candidate in the November 5 regular election. Although the county Board of Elections will handle all registrations, registration forms may be picked up during regular office hours at the city offices, 25 Crescent Road (Municipal Building), or at the Greenbelt Library, 11 Crescent Road. Voters may also call the Board of Elections at 627-2814 to request that a form be sent by mail. In addition, there will be a registrar at the Labor Day Festival. All completed forms must be received by the Board of Elections by October 7.

Voter Qualification Requirements

In order to vote in Greenbelt, and to be registered with Prince Georges County, one must be a citizen of the United States of America; at least 18 years of age as of November 5, 1991; domiciled within the corporate limits of the city of Greenbelt as of the date of registration; not convicted more than once of an infamous crime and not currently under a sentence imposed pursuant to a conviction of an infamous crime (direct questions to the election office, 952-3270); and not under guardianship for mental disability.

Candidacy for Council

Any qualified voter of the city wishing to run for council may do so by obtaining from the city clerk and filing the following forms:

1. Nomination Petition — This form requires the signature of at least 50 qualified voters of the city, and must be signed by the circulator of the petition and notarized. The signatures should give the petitioners' proper name e.g., Mary Doe, not Mrs. John Doe and address.

2. Acceptance of Nomination— This form notes that the nominee agrees to serve, if elected. It must be filed along with the nomination petition.

3. Financial Disclosure Statement—This form lists business entities and real estate interests held by the nominee and family, and sources of specified income or debt. The statement covers the period January 1, 1990 thru June 30, 1991. Candidates who had previously filed a statement for calendar year 1990 will be required to file a supplemental report for the period of January 1 thru June 30, 1991. The financial disclosure statement must also be notarized.

For the first time this year residents must be registered with Prince Georges County in order to vote in the city election. City Clerk Dorothy Lauber has discovered there are more than 800 residents who were registered with the city, but not with the county. Those residents must now register with the county if they wish to vote for the Greenbelt city council.

The deadline for filing to be a candidate in the November 5 regular election is Monday, September 23, at 5 p.m.

The City Clerk verifies that nomination petitions meet the requirements of the city charter. A drawing will be held by the Board of Elections in the City Offices on Tuesday, September 24 at 7:30 p.m. to determine the order in which the candidates' names shall be placed on the ballot. This meeting is open to the public; candidates, their families, supporters, and interested citizens may attend to witness the draw.

Candidates are also required to file a notarized interim report of campaign contributions no later than noon, October 18; and a final campaign contribution report must be filed no later than 5 p.m. Monday, November 11. This report shall list the name, address, and amount contributed of every contributor, other than the candidate or a member of his or her family, who has contributed more than $25.00 in furtherance of the candidate's nomination and election.

We Want Your News

Everyone is invited to be a contributor to the Greenbelt News Review. Those interested in reporting or writing articles should contact the news editor, Elaine Skolnik (493-8336) or the editor, Mary Lou Williamson (441-2662). Other materials, such as birth, engagement, or wedding announcements, obituaries, notices or reports of community events and activities, or letters to the editor, may be submitted by anyone without prior discussion with the staff. There is no charge for any of these items.

All materials should be submitted typed, double-spaced, on one side of the paper (the print shop requires this), along with the name, address, and evening phone number of a person to contact regarding the material. In addition to coming to the News Review's basement office at 15 Parkway (deadline 10 p.m. Tuesdays), contributors may make use of the drop box in the Co-op supermarket (on the post near the rear door, deadline 6 p.m. Tuesdays), or mail the material (Box 68, Greenbelt, 20768, deadline Tuesday's mail). Materials should not be left under the door or through the mail slot at the Parkway location - they may be overlooked or lost.

Materials not received by the staff by Tuesday evening deadline will not be included in that week's paper. Anyone announcing a Thursday, Friday or Saturday event should submit the notice in time for the previous week's edition, since many readers do not receive their papers until Friday. All relevant dates should be included in the article. Price information may not be included, but the contributor may wish to indicate that the event is free or that there is a fee.

All materials submitted are subject to editing. In general, issues and events not involving or affecting Greenbelt or Greenbelters will not be printed. However, potential contributors may wish to consult a member of the editorial staff (see masthead) for clarification on borderline cases.

Due to space constraints, articles may not always be included in the News Review the week they are submitted, and occasionally it may be necessary to shorten an article in order to include it. Contributors can aid the staff, and their article's chances for timely inclusion, by placing the most important information in the first part of the article.

Obituaries, weddings and engagements are treated as separate articles and should be submitted as described above.

In addition to articles, everyone is invited and encouraged to submit announcements of births, graduations, honors, awards and other similar events to the "Our Neighbors" column. This information may be submitted by the procedures above, or by calling Linda Savaryn at 474-5285.

In short, the Greenbelt News Review is a community newspaper in the fullest sense of the word, published for the community by the community. The more people contribute to the News Review, the better it can serve the community's needs.

Registration

the city may vote by absentee ballots. The first day to apply and vote by absentee ballot will be Wednesday, October 16. (Please watch for city ads.)

Election of Council

The five candidates each receiving at least 40 percent of the total number of votes cast and the highest number of votes cast will be elected. If fewer than five candidates receive at least 40 percent of votes cast, a run-off election will be held on Tuesday, November 12. Twice as many names of unsuccessful candidates as there are positions to be filled will be submitted to the voters. In more than 20 years this has not been necessary.

Greenbelt does not have provisions for election of the mayor or mayor pro tem by the electorate. At the organization meeting on the Monday following the election (Monday, November 11) the newly elected council will elect the mayor and mayor pro tem. Traditionally, the new council has elected the highest vote getter to be mayor, and the second highest vote getter to be the mayor pro tem for the ensuing two-year term.

Recycling Reminders

—Recycling containers in the GHI courts should not block trash closet doors.

—Newspapers in GHI courts and in the rest of the city should be bundled or bagged and placed next to recycling containers.

Letters to the Editor

Reaching Out

"... from the very beginning, Greenbelt had people with different talents, who contributed those talents to help their community, and this is why Greenbelt is unique. We had all these people who were willing to share and help. When there's any kind of problems, there's always somebody out there reaching out in some way to help. A lot of it isn't known, but it's always happening."

Mike Burchick made these remarks in 1985. He has been a volunteer ever since he and his wife, Myrna moved here in 1942, almost 50 years ago. Isn't it time for other residents to get more involved so that people like Mike can relax, and enjoy retirement?

Greenbelt is in need of volunteers. Recent ads for volunteers to serve on city advisory boards and committees have not resulted in many responses. We need to fill vacancies on advisory boards and to establish a bank of volunteers which we can draw on.

At present, the City Council is looking for volunteers to serve on the Advisory Planning Board, Community Relations Advisory Board, and the Park and Recreation Advisory Board. There are committees which regularly have vacancies, such as Crime Prevention, Arts Advisory, and Recycling. Greenbelt CARES needs tutors, and the museum needs docents and workers. Attempts have been made to establish a Youth Advisory Committee, but only three youths have volunteered to serve.

If you are interested in participating in the life of Greenbelt, if you want to help your community, please let us know by writing a letter or by calling me at 474-3870. Many of us have found close friends and great satisfaction while serving the City of Greenbelt.

Expansion of NASA Facility To Be Reviewed by Council

The proposed expansion of the Goddard Space Flight Center (GSFC) is on the city council's Monday, August 26 agenda in response to the National Capital Planning Commission (NCP) which is seeking comments on the revised master plan for GSFC.

In a memorandum to City Manager Daniel G. Hobbs, after a briefing at GSFC on August 16, Planning and Development Director Celia Wilson noted that "The June 1991 revision is primarily related to GSFC's new involvement in the Earth Observing System Program (EOS) and related facilities improvements." NCP is scheduled to act on September 5.

On the drawing boards are plans for a new campus on the east side of Soil Conservation Road, north of Greenbelt Road. The campus will house two buildings. The first, a 192,000 square-foot computer/office building (Earth Observing System Data Information System—EOSDIS), is programmed for "first occupancy" in fiscal year 1992, with full operation scheduled in fiscal year 1996. About 1,000 new employees are expected to be housed in this building, Wilson said, "with 500 working during the prime shift (8 a.m.-5 p.m.)."

The second major building—the Earth System Science Building (ESSB)—will be located adjacent to the EOSDIS facility. Approximately 1000 current employees at Goddard will be housed in this new facility.

Wilson said that because of existing traffic congestion problems, "particularly those relating to traffic movement at the main gate," Goddard is considering the possibility of "closing the main gate to incoming traffic and relocating the main gate to Soil Conservation Road." The road would then be closed to through traffic. Another proposal is the "creation of a ring road to link the east campus to the main campus."

HOST FAMILIES NEEDED NOW

Host families are being sought for high school exchange students from Sweden, Denmark, Spain, Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, Brazil, Ecuador and Turkey for the school year 1991-92 in a program sponsored by the American Intercultural Student Exchange (AISE).

Students are fluent in English, have been screened by their school representatives in their home countries, have spending money and medical insurance.

Host families may deduct $50 per month for income tax purposes.

Families interested in host family program should call Toll Free: 1-800-SIBLING.

Jack Reynolds Memorial Golf Tournament Sept. 9

by Kathy Reynolds

Jack Reynolds was a life member of the Greenbelt Volunteer Fire Department and Rescue Squad with 35 years of service. Jack served in the capacity of chief, president, and on the board of trustees.

He was also a member of the Greenbelt American Legion Post 136. Although never holding a legion office, he enjoyed the social aspect, seeing and talking with friends over a golf score and the "good ole days".

In 1969, Jack retired at the rank of captain from the Metropolitan Police Department, Washington, D.C., after 23 years of dedicated and devoted service. His fellow officers held Jack in the highest esteem and he was known as a "policeman's policeman". Jack's police career was cut short due to a barricade situation in which he was shot losing the sight in his left eye. Giving up his "beat" was not his forte' so after retiring, Jack found a new love — golf, and enjoyed playing every opportunity he had. I ought to know — I was known as a golf widow (A golf expression of a wife left at home while the husband played golf!!!!).

On November 23, 1990, Jack passed away leaving many, many happy and great memories. The Greenbelt Volunteer Fire Department and Rescue Squad has established a memorial golf tournament which will be held September 9, and will be an annual event. The tournament will be held at Bowie Country Club with a 9 a.m. shot gun start. There is an entry fee, which includes greens fee, cart, buffet, door prizes and trophies. All proceeds will be donated to the Greenbelt Volunteer Fire Department and Rescue Squad. Any golfer interested in playing or anyone wishing to help sponsor a hole, please contact Kathy Reynolds (474-4372) or Bill Dunn (474-4382).

with his engaging vocal style and unique blend of good time music and humor. Tracy McDonnell and the Estrogenics bring a close to shows on the Labor Day stage. She is known for her distinctive guitar work and clear, strong voice and is accompanied by a bassist and conga player.

Talent Show

This year's Talent and Variety show is open to performers of all ages and the performers scheduled reflect that new approach. There are young singers and singers of all ages. One special group of Greenbelters will be performing an original song about Greenbelt — original lyrics, actually, by Mike Burchick to a familiar tune. Jean Cook, who always opens the Festival with the National Anthem, also leads this singing group. Another special group in the show is an African reggae band whose leader is a one-time Greenbelt resident.

Carnival

The carnival operated by Rosedale Amusement Company has been a fixture of the Greenbelt Labor Day Festival for many years, but each year the carnival brings new and thrilling rides to the Festival. There are also rides for young children and coupons, available throughout the community, offer a discount on the unlimited rides offered from 1-5 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

The carnival area is also the site of the activity and food booths operated by Greenbelt's community, civic, educational and cultural organizations. The festival program lists each of the booths. The carnival features many groups that participate in the Festival each year. Each year, however, there are also new groups.

Girl Scout Troop 1161 joins the 1991 Festival to raise funds to attend the 1992 celebration of Girl Scouts of America's 80th anniversary to be held in Savannah, Georgia. The Girl Scouts will sell s'mores—the traditional campfire cookie — and will also hold a bake sale. Boy Scout Troop 746 is also new to the Festival and their booth will feature all American favorites—hot dogs and hamburgers. Coming back after a brief absence is the Greenbelt Boys and Girls Club which will have candy bars and other snacks.

Festival-goers will be able to purchase buffalo wings at the Sierra Club booth. Another new food item available during the Festival will be frozen yogurt at the Greenbelt Swim Team booth and Mountain Pies offered by the ERHS Cross Country Team. As usual, barbeques, sundaes, gourmet sandwiches, sausages, nachos and funnel cakes will round out the menu choices for the weekend.

Greenbelt Access TV, Inc. (GATE) will have its first booth in the Labor Day Festival and will be videotaping the Festival. The Baha'i community expands its booth activities by adding a Fish Pond. Coming back this year are the Friends of the Greenbelt Library, whose booth will feature a book game. Hundreds of books will be the focus of the Center School PTA used books booth.

Carnival visitors can again dunk a cop, try the zoo dip, toss a ring, make a button, catch a gold fish, paint a face or play bingo. They can learn about fire and crime prevention.

Community Exhibits and Information

On Saturday afternoon, many local businesses and groups will set up displays to provide information on services and activities. The Prince Georges Board of Elections will be there both Saturday and Sunday to register voters. (Under the new system, to vote in the upcoming Greenbelt city election voters must be registered by the county. Deadline is October 7).

World Connections Travel will feature drawings for trips, at its first display in the community information area. Greenbelt Nursing Center is another new community exhibit as is the Professional Eye Care Center, which will be offering glaucoma and other eye tests. Other groups exhibiting for the first time are the Anacostia Watershed Society, Custom Air Services, Inc. and Tupperware.

Miss Greenbelt Pageant and Little Miss Greenbelt

Miss Greenbelt Pageant contestants are presented, dance in a theme production and participate in a modeling competition as the Festival begins on Friday evening, August 30. This year's theme "Proud to be an American" is carried out in the entertainment, costumes and decorations. Saturday night is the talent competition and Sunday evening features the evening gown presentation and crowning of Miss Greenbelt.

Pageant participants who have been rehearsing, fund raising and working on various projects throughout the summer are Jennifer Carey, Shireen Dixon, Shannon Feldpusch, Apryl Kaye, Rosalie Kowmas, Chery Martin and Samantha Worley. Shannon Grady, Miss Greenbelt 1990, has a featured role in the pageant.

Seventeen Greenbelt girls from ages 7 to 10 are in the Little Miss Greenbelt Pageant. They are Theresa Arnold, Connie Bailey, Sarah Barnett, Charity Bates, Kathleen Brodrick, Lauren Byers, Tara Carlton, Jaclyn Coulter, Maybell Dasilva, Lorisa David, Ashley Dial, Heather Durance, Sarah Fendlay, Katie Lee, Sarah Lewis, Angela Shehadi and Marissa Troeschel. Little Misses model theme outfits and formal party dresses. Brandy Worley, Little Miss Greenbelt 1990, makes a special appearance.

Art and Photo Exhibitions

The Youth Center is the location for both the art and photo exhibitions this year. Both shows have numerous categories for winners as judged by professional artists and photographers. Each also provides a chance for the visiting public to vote for its favorite. The photo and art shows are open from Saturday through Monday and offer Festival visitors an opportunity to see a multitude of artistic styles and expressions.

There is no advance registration for the photo show; art show entrants should use the registration form in last week's issue of the News Review. Art and photographic entries should be submitted Friday evening at the Youth Center.

Athletic Events

The Greenbelt Recreation Department sponsors a full range of athletic events, contests and recreational sports throughout the Labor Day weekend. The Greenbelt Municipal Swimming Pool is open and is the site of special events such as the senior citizens swim party. Some events require preregistration; check the full schedule in the News Review.

Among the activities available for spectators and participants alike are gym baseball, table tennis, slow-pitch softball, foosball, tennis, beach volleyball, t-ball, hockey, golf, basketball, soccer, disk golf and foot races.

The Great Volksmarchers, Inc. will hold the 4th International Volksmarch from Greenbriar Park through Parcel One, Greenbelt East and Old Greenbelt. Walkers participate at their own pace and enjoy the company of other walkers.

Still other walkers can take part in the children's or adult walking treasure hunt. Clues lead children to various locations in and around the Youth Center and Festival area. Adults are directed to locations throughout Greenbelt and ultimately to a special prize.

A noteworthy event this year is the open house of the Greenbelt Aquatic and Fitness Center—the new indoor pool. Following the parade on Monday there will be a ribbon cutting ceremony with city officials. Tours of the facility will then be offered until 4 p.m.

Children's Pet Show

Special Contests and Events

Last year a pet snake named Flash was one of the most popular pets in the show. This year there may not be a snake, but there will certainly be dogs, cats, hamsters, gerbils, guinea pigs, turtles, hermit crabs and other animals when Greenbelt children hold their annual pet show. Registration is promptly followed by judging in this show with the theme, "every pet's a winner."

Children themselves face off in the special contests from the diaper derby for crawlers to toddler races to water balloon toss and pie eating contests for older children and teens. Registration is 15 minutes before each event and there are prizes and ribbons awarded in each event.

The Yo-Yo Man will attract children and adults as he roams the carnival area demonstrating yo-yo tricks. He will distribute yo-yos and offer tips to yo-yo performance.

Another rover around the carnival is Notlim the Clown who traditionally participates in the early hours of the Festival. He will entertain children with his silent tricks and jokes and always has a little crowd of children following him.

Salute to American Workers

Repeating an innovative approach to the Salute to American Workers by featuring Greenbelt workers, this year's salute is a slide show of scenes from Greenbelt businesses. The slide show will feature the many and varied occupations of Greenbelters. A contest tests the ability to recognize and identify Greenbelt business locations. Check the special display to enter the contest.

The Jello Boys headline the entertainment at the Labor Day Festival, with their free-wheeling performance of "good time rock and roll" Friday, August 30 at 9 p.m.

Opening Ceremonies and

Outstanding Citizen

The Greenbelt Labor Day Festival officially opens with the outdoor concert in the Roosevelt Center of the Greenbelt Concert Band, under the direction of John DelHomme. This is always a popular concert as listeners rest on benches beneath the trees or lounge in chairs in the Center. From the concert, action moves to the Festival stage where Greenbelt Mayor Gil Weidenfeld, City Council members, State and County officials participate in opening ceremonies.

A highlight of the Opening Ceremonies is the selection of the Outstanding Citizen for 1991. This announcement follows careful deliberations by a volunteer selection committee representing all areas of the city. The Outstanding Citizen is nominated by other residents of the city and serves as Grand Marshall of the Labor Day Parade.

Labor Day Parade

The Labor Day Parade moves down Crescent Road from Greenhill to Southway, at 10 a.m., Monday, September 2. This year's parade promises many marching bands and musical groups. Among those expected are the Emerald Society Irish Band, the Prince Georges Police Pipe Band, Dunloggin Irish Band, Patriots Fife and Drum Corps, Potomac River Jazz Club, Alte Kameraden German Band and the Yankee Rebels American Band.

The Chinese Dragon and Dancers—a hit of last year's parade—are returning. Miss Greenbelt 1991 and her court, Little Miss Greenbelt, the 1991 Outstanding Citizen, community groups and local officials are featured in the Parade. More details will appear in next week's issue of the News Review.

Festival Information

The Labor Day Festival takes place in the Roosevelt Center, in the parking lot adjacent to the Municipal Building on Crescent Road, and in the athletic fields throughout the city. The Festival Stage is located just in front of the outdoor pool. The entertainment, exhibits, displays and athletic events are free. There is a charge for carnival rides, activities and food.

A free bus provides transportation to and from the Festival. Call 982-4019 for a ride or festival information.

The Labor Day Festival Steering Committee operates an information booth in the carnival area and schedules of the festival activities and other information are available. Festival committee members wear identifying ribbons and welcome questions and suggestions about the Labor Day Festival.

Everyone Welcome

"Unity Through Community Involvement," the theme of the Labor Day Festival, describes a weekend when all Greenbelters can come together, both in volunteer work and for entertainment. Founded thirty-seven years ago, the Festival has traditionally given Greenbelt organizations an opportunity to earn money and show off their activities. The Festival is a non-profit organization directed by a Steering Committee elected yearly. It receives its operating expenses from donations of local businesses and from a percentage of the profits from booths and carnival rides. All Greenbelt residents and organizations are invited to participate in the planning and activities of the Festival.

GEAC Considers Options After Sunrise Ruling

by Pat Scully

Sheldon Goldberg of Windsor Green will take over as chair of the Greenbelt East Advisory Coalition (GEAC) from the departing James Foy, who will be moving out of Greenbelt. Goldberg was elected by acclamation at the August 1 meeting of GEAC at Greenbriar. Tim Sechrist of Greenbrook Estates was elected to fill the vice chair slot made vacant by Goldberg's election as chair.

Goldberg will take the gavel at the next meeting of GEAC on September 5 at 7:30 p.m. at Hunting Ridge.

Sunrise Appeal

Since the meeting was the first since Circuit Court Judge Jacob Levin lifted the Sunrise stop work order, GEAC spent much of its meeting discussing the implications of the ruling. Would Sunrise Development move immediately to construct the 467-unit twin apartment buildings? Would the county appeal the ruling to the Maryland Special Court of Appeals, to force compliance with the May 1990 Sectional Map Amendment's lower density zoning?

At that time County Council Chairperson Richard Castaldi and County Executive Parris Glendening had not reached a decision on whether to press the appeal, which could cost the county approximately $60,000 in legal fees. Since the appeal must be filed with the court within 30 days of the judge's decision, issued on July 9, there would not be time for GEAC to take a position, have it approved by the member associations and communicate it to Castaldi and Glendening. (Editor's Note: On August 8 the county Office of Law filed an appeal of Levin's ruling.)

Ed Schilling of Windsor Green asked if it would be helpful for individual homeowners and associations that could meet and take a position quickly to call Castaldi and Glendening and urge them to appeal. "Definitely," said Foy. "Their numbers are in the blue pages of the phone book." City Councilmember Edward Putens strongly suggested immediate telephone calls or faxes to both.

Condo Option?

The group discussed various possibilities for the future of the site, most of them contingent on the county appealing. Goldberg stated his belief that "we could win it on appeal" and get the current zoning, R-18-C, which calls for lower density condominiums.

Roy Dahl noted that the developer had asked in early February for the city and GEAC's support for a proposal for basically the same density buildings as condominiums rather than apartments. The proposal had included contributions for parkland development and some traffic improvements as inducements. This proposal, rejected at the time, would be preferable to the high density apartments without the sweeteners.

Is the appeal winnable? Dahl asked. Given the judge's decision, would it not be practical to consider negotiating with the developer? Perhaps a high rise condo more dense than the R-18-C zoning would allow but less than the R-10 would be feasible. The appeal could provide leverage for bargaining with the developer for, at least, condos rather than apartments.

Appeal and Win

"Density is the issue," Goldberg reiterated. If the developer wins the appeal he won't bother with condominiums and their complicated legal regime; rentals are easier to deal with. As evidence for this statement, Goldberg cited the statements of the developers at the February meeting.

Ed Schilling noted that GEAC has taken a position for low density, low rise development on the Sunrise Property. He also noted that the rental market is glutted throughout the Washington area and in Greenbelt, and wondered how soon Sunrise would really be built. "I believe we could win it on appeal," he said, "and get the current zoning—low density condos."

The consensus of the meeting was to put as much pressure as possible on the county officials to appeal the decision.

Fire-Retardant Plywood

Goldberg shared a newspaper article on progress toward settlement of the class action suits on fire-retardant plywood (FRP). The material, used in the roofs, is susceptible to a fungal-like growth that can cause structural damage if not detected early and treated. Many of the eastern developments, including Windsor Green, Greenbrook Village and Greenbrook Estates, share this nationwide problem.

parties in the nationwide class. According to the article, the action suit against builders have gone to a mediator and reached a tentative agreement. There is hope of setting up a nationwide program for reimbursement to homeowners of their costs.

However, Sarah Cohn, Greenbrook Village's coordinator on this issue, said she had talked to the law firm involved and that the article was premature. The parties are still early in the process of negotiating.

Cohn reminded everyone that some builders may assume responsibility, or have it imposed, for replacement of roofs damaged by FRP. Homeowners should save receipts for all of their associated costs, including for inspections, testing and repair.

Farewell to Foy

Dorothy Pyles, Greenbriar's gracious hostess, provided a farewell cake for Foy, who was toasted and wished well. Amid general accolades, Schilling characterized the last couple of years under Foy's leadership as GEAC's most productive years, noting such accomplishments as the Ora Glen light.

by Linda Savaryn 474-5285
Greenbelt CARES staff were saddened to learn of the death of Art Findling, one of the original volunteers with the program. Art died on August 12 at home in Takoma Park. Art helped write the original CARES grant proposal with Leo Walder. He worked as a volunteer in the Family Clinic for several years, while also holding down a full-time position doing psychological research at the U.S. Naval Hospital.

Art was 47 years old, married and the father of a baby son, Max.

Ray and Rose Haber are the proud great grandparents of Michael Cason Goddman, who was born August 14 in Phoenix. Michael is the son of Marc and Susan Goodman and the grandson of Glenda and Victor Goodman.

It's a boy for Bob and Karen Faherty of Crescent Rd. Brian Robert was born August 13 at Prince Georges Hospital Center, weighing 8 lb. 11 oz. Brothers

Kevin and Michael greeted his arrival. Brian's mom in a dental assistant at the McCarl Dental Office on Ridge Rd.

Cheryl Anne Strafella, daughter of Lynne Walters, received the Salisbury State University Geographic Society Award. A 1987 ERHS graduate, she recently earned her B.S. in geography from SSU, graduating cum laude.

WIC Funds Increased

The Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene announced that the state's WIC (Women, Infants and Children) Program will be able to increase enrollment by nearly 20 percent thanks to $630,000 in supplemental funds received from the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

These funds will be used to increase the number of pregnant women, infants and children receiving program benefits by approximately 10,000 between now and September 30.

The WIC Program provides supplemental foods such as infant formula, milk, juice, eggs and cereal to pregnant women, infants and children through their fifth birthday who have a low income (less than $24,790 a year for a family of four) and who have a medical/nutritional need.

Anyone interested in obtaining information about the WIC Program should contact their local health department or call the state WIC Hotline at 1-800-242-4WIC (494) for information.

Parkfest Celebrates Area National Parks

To celebrate the scenery of such places as the 184-mile long C&O Canal National Historic Park and the Civil War history of Antietam Battlefield in Md., the National Park Service will present ParkFest from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m., Saturday, Aug. 24, on the Mall off Constitution Avenue between 14th and 15th Streets. The event also celebrates the 75th anniversary of the National Park Service, which is Sunday, August 25.

ParkFest—with demonstrations on the grounds and tents of exhibits and stage presentations by living history interpreters and musicians—will showcase some 30 national park areas within the national capital region.

On Sunday entrance fees throughout the National Park System will be waived for the anniversary date. These include several parks in Maryland: Great Falls Park, Antietam National Battlefield, and Fort Washington.

For more information, contact the Park Service at 202-619-7222.
